Claim 9 is objected to because of the following informalities: on line 10, "position" should be changed to --positioned--. Appropriate correction is required.

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1,2,4-9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by EP 1223019.

EP 122019 discloses in Figs. 1, 3 and 4 an injection molding apparatus comprising a hot runner manifold 2 comprising at least one melt channel, a nozzle fluidly connected to said melt channel of said hot runner channel, a valve gate 8 disposed within said nozzle, a valve pin 14 running through at least a portion of said nozzle to open and close said valve gate, a mold defining a mold cavity 9 and a linear actuator connected to said valve pin having a position sensor 58 and 59 and a cooling plate assembly 14, the position sensors integrated into said cooling via a close proximity thereto as set forth in paragraph 38 of the specification.

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Claim 3 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over EP 1223020.

While the position sensors are not disposed within the cooling plate, positioning the sensors within the cooling plate would have been obvious in light of In re Japikse, 86 USPQ 70 where a change in location of a part when operation of the part is not otherwise modified is considered within the skill of the ordinary artisan. Also, where a part is to be maintained at a proper temperature, such as by cooling, locating the part in a cooled object is considered obvious since the cooling plate maintains part 15 at a proper temperature by providing a heat sink thereto.
